The global fixed income marketplace

Fixed income securities now amount to a vast global marketplace that provides a variety of important benefits to investors.

The benefits of investing

We live in a world of rapidly-changing financial market dynamics. Evolving economic expectations and interest rate assumptions combine with an unfolding geopolitical backdrop to lend support to the idea of investing in a well-diversified portfolio.

Fixed income can be mixed with riskier asset classes such as equities to help generate superior risk-adjusted returns. Meanwhile, against a background of ageing populations in many developed markets, the demand for income continues to exert its influence as a powerful and positive force. This will continue to provide support for fixed income as an asset class going forward.

Across the range of fixed income markets can be found a wide array of risk and return characteristics. The attraction of each area can change as economic and credit cycles progress. Managers that pursue a flexible and dynamic allocation approach can seize investment opportunities as they arise, while minimising downside risks.

Reasons to invest in fixed income

1. Potential for consistent, attractive income
2. Diversification benefits to asset allocators
3. Active managers well-placed to add value

Our size is to our advantage

In today's ever-changing market environment, having the right partner to help you meet your fixed income goals is essential. At Columbia Threadneedle Investments, we have the resources and discipline to help you meet these objectives and deliver the consistent, sustainable results you require.

Our 137-strong global Fixed Income team is split between research, portfolio management and support teams, as well as a dedicated trading function. With this scale of resources managing $210 billion in assets, we have the global presence to conduct thorough analysis of bond issuers yet retain the ability to deliver returns from security selection.

“Our approach is anchored by three key principles – fundamental research, global collaboration and downside risk management – to deliver strong, consistent risk-adjusted returns.”

– GENE TANNUZZO
Global Head of Fixed Income

At the heart of our fixed income capability is a substantial global research platform

Our global fixed income research team is resourced to provide a balance between detailed due diligence of issuers and a clear vision of market and sector trends. Credit selection is key, with our research experts conducting proprietary, bottom-up company analysis and sharing insights to achieve better outcomes for our clients.

We also benefit from being part of a leading global asset manager. By sharing knowledge and rigorously debating insights with colleagues across asset classes and geographies we improve our understanding of the environment impacting fixed income markets.

The strength and depth of our research base helps us to understand the changing fixed income landscape. Portfolio managers follow a flexible approach to portfolio construction, combining top-down and bottom-up analysis to enable us to respond to challenges posed by structural changes in demographics, globalisation and geopolitics, as well as the evolution of the credit cycle.

Our global team of dedicated sector analysts ensures focus and highly specialised expertise.

Non-rotational sector coverage means analysts gain a thorough understanding of their industry and the investment opportunities available.

A highly rewarding analyst career path drives deep sector specialisation and has meant stability within teams.

.....

A collaborative, interactive environment between analysts and portfolio managers ensures the best investment ideas are incorporated into portfolios.

Our approach to risk

Aiming for the highest level of income today is a mistake if it jeopardises total return tomorrow. Our portfolio managers aim to maximise return per unit of risk, pursuing income within a total return framework to deliver consistent returns for our clients.

We focus on identifying changes in key catalysts and risks. Our proprietary risk rating system enables analysts to efficiently communicate an issuer's risk profile and supports rigorous relative value debates that help portfolio managers to determine their final portfolio positions.

Columbia Threadneedle's independent investment oversight process ensures accountability and facilitates continuous improvement, while maintaining portfolio manager autonomy.

We believe this disciplined process contributes towards our ability to deliver sustainable returns.

A responsible investor

Responsible investment (RI) principles are embedded within Columbia Threadneedle's mainstream investment process and the firm has developed proprietary tools that provide a robust RI framework and better analysis for portfolio managers. Across all asset classes, Columbia Threadneedle manages $35 billion in funds or client accounts with a RI mandate, $17 billion of which is in fixed income strategies.*

Columbia Threadneedle is a pioneer in impact investing and has been a leading advocate in the development of the burgeoning green and social bond markets. We launched the UK's first mainstream, daily liquid social bond strategy in 2014, followed by US and European social bond strategies.

Translating the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) to investment opportunities in our social bond strategies provides a compelling means to contribute to sustainable development, while aiming to achieve positive financial returns.

“In a market currently dominated by exclusion-based products focused on negative screening, our social bond strategies are based on a markedly different approach to social investment – the principle of positive inclusion.”

Within each Morningstar Category, the top 10% of funds receive five stars, the next 22.5% four stars, the middle 35% three stars, the next 22.5% two stars, and the bottom 10% receive one star. Funds are rated for up to three time periods—three-, five-, and 10 years—and these ratings are combined to produce an overall rating. Funds with less than three years of history are not rated. Ratings are objective, based entirely on a mathematical evaluation of past performance.
